

Adrian Orr - governor

Ian Woolford head of money & cash

rbnz-info@rbnz.govt.nz

20 July 2024

RE: Written submission in relation to DIGITAL CASH

I am writing directly to the above responsible agents of the "reserve bank NZ" to inform you and your colleagues of the reserve bank in NZ, that my family, friends and associates within my contact facebook account, instagram, tick tock and youtube, are not supportive of a cash less society aka CBDC "central bank digital currency";

We have no confidence or trust in the RESERVE BANK of NZ, and we are of the belief that the central bank here in New Zealand, is owned by a small group of people, outside New Zealand;

There is widespread information, claiming a cyber attack, can affect the security of the bank, that holds private data of every customer, which can jeopardise their security & safety;

When a bank is planning to go digital, peoples privacy, will no longer be safe or confidential; the bank is able to "TRACK" in real time every single account holder; every transaction made by every individual will be tracked & monitored instantaneously without doubt;

We know this is an international agenda, to implement the CBDC in every western country; however in our nation state, we are not just west, we are an independent native state, we have a declaration of independence flag which was published in the New South Wales gazette, on 17 August 1835, by King William's secretary of state, the gifted flag was erected in the soil of New Zealand on 20 March 1834, with a 21 gun salute witnessed by three navy frigates; all evidenced;

Our tupuna had their own currency, which depicted the face of King Tawhiao Potatau Te Whero Whero; why has the bank not considered implementing this; the answer we believe is because the bank is not owned by New Zealand, it is owned and overseen by its true owners;

We do not support foreign ideals, we do not have any faith, in who is pushing this agenda; many people in New Zealand, through conversation, do not trust in digital banking, especially if it is arranged by international globalist, who have a strong investment interest that is going to solely benefit them;

There is no guarantee of protection, security, or safety in digital banking, we believe privacy will be lost, data will be exposed to every other bank, laws allow them to information share, in the case of technological disruption, it may cause people to lose their funds, or stop people from accessing their funds, unable to purchase when they want, possible delays and many breaches after;

The "RESERVE BANK" is the issuer of the currency, who also wish to take away the privacy, of every individuals right to use notes and coins; the use of these notes and coins, gives them the freedom and confidence to spend in private, without being tracked, surveillanced and no data breach; it is at this moment the best, effective way;

Notes & coins can be used in many different ways for different purposes, we have confidence that most New Zealanders, want to keep the notes and coins, not just for private reasons, or to use for different purposes, but because it is economical, convenient, handy, it gives young and old the sense of security using notes; its good to budget with, where people are able to check what theyve spent with what is left in their hand;

We say NO to digital currency, people in their own private capacity are using digital through crypto currency, so why would the RESERVE BANK want to continue to implement another cryptic currency digital;

This submission will also be shared on my facebook page

Thank you for accepting my submission

Tina